The Animal House tries to satisfy all adopters while also making the best match between your family and your new pet. We often receive multiple applications for the same animal. Simply being the first to submit an application does not guarantee you will receive the animal you have requested. If your application is approved but the animal has already been placed or another family is considered to be a better match for the pet, we hope you will consider adopting a different homeless animal. We have many wonderful animals waiting for permanent homes.
